

Dependent Verification Process FAQs

1. Why is Dun & Bradstreet conducting a Dependent Eligibility Verification?

Dun & Bradstreet has a fiduciary responsibility to ensure that only eligible dependents receive benefits under our plans. We conduct this program to ensure the plan is legally compliant and eligibility requirements are consistently applied within our medical and dental plans. Additionally, ineligible dependents using the plans create higher costs for those who are eligible, and this ultimately is reflected in the premiums.

2. Who is Gainwell (formerly Cotiviti)?

Gainwell is an independent third-party cost containment company with whom Dun & Bradstreet has contracted to verify the eligibility of dependents covered under its health benefit plans. Gainwell specializes in verifying health plan eligibility and has reviewed verification documentation for millions of dependents for some of the largest employers in the United States. Experience and expertise are necessary to complete this program accurately and successfully, and to limit inconvenience to participants.

3. Can I complete this process online?

You may certify the eligibility of your dependents and/or remove any ineligible dependents online through the “Review My Dependents” tab of the website at AuditOS.com. Please note that appropriate documentation is still required for any eligible dependents in order to complete the verification process.

4. How do I log on to the Gainwell (formerly Cotiviti) website to upload my documents?

Log on to AuditOS.com using your reference number and date of birth. Your reference number can be located on the top right corner of page one of the letter that you received.

5. Do I need to send original documents?

Please do NOT send your original documents; a copy is sufficient. If the document is two-sided or has multiple pages, ensure you copy all pages and both sides of the paper.

6. May I submit the documents to Fidelity instead?

No. Fidelity will not forward documents to Gainwell nor will they provide employees with copies of previously submitted documents.

7. May I provide my documents to my Human Resources Department?

No. Human Resources will not be able to forward your documents to Gainwell or provide employees with copies of previously submitted documents. The only way to ensure that all documents are logged appropriately and eligibility of your dependents is verified is to submit your supporting documentation to Gainwell.
